

The Evening World's and Babies' Welfare Association's Great City-Wide Series of Better Babies' Contests

2,900 New York City Babies Await The Decisions of the Judging Physicians!

Registration Closed in the Last of the Eight Districts Covering Large Sections of the East and West Sides and Big Districts in Brooklyn.

Evening World Making
Plans for More Baby Contests in Upper Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond Boroughs.

Two thousand nine hundred New York City babies.

That's the number of sturdy youngsters who are registered as prospective winners in eight of the Better Babies' Contests now being held under the auspices of The Evening World and the Babies' Welfare Association.

Two thousand nine hundred kiddies now await the judgment of committees of physicians as to whether through nurture of mind and body they have won an Evening World prize and the title "champion baby" of their district.
For the last of the eight districts covering large sections of the east and west sides and big districts in Brooklyn closed their registration books for entrants on Sunday. Now begins the trying work of Board of Health and local volunteer physicians of judging the little ones according to a standard score card by which the kiddies are tested, measured and examined. For health alone, mental and physical health and perfect-ness of measurement and development, all that count in these contests.

WHAT THE PHYSICAL EXAMINA- TION ENTAILS.

The physical examination alone entails: Regularity of features, symmetry of head, condition of hair and scalp, normality of eyes, ears and nose, condition of the lips and neck, character of the arms and hands, legs and feet, chest and abdominal muscles, throat and cervical glands. The general nutrition of the body is given strict consideration, the spine is looked over very carefully, and when necessary has gone through the process of examination and all its good and bad points are set down on that inflexible score card, why, its mother has a written record of its physical and mental condition.

What is the next step in the big city-wide baby contests. Of course, at the Little Mothers' Aid, at No. 135 Second avenue, this process has been going on since Aug. 13. The judges have been busy every day, and not until next Friday, when the final re-examination of the high score babies is made, will their work really be over. On that day the prize winners will be known, but announcement will not be made until the following Monday afternoon.

"We are having a busy time of it," said Mrs. Clarence Burns, the indefatigable President of the Little Mothers' Aid, this morning, "but we're all very happy over the results. We think, and so do the doctors, that the Little Mothers' district has just about the finest group of little ones in this big city.
Our contest district extends from Seventh to Twenty-eighth street and from Fifth avenue to the East River.

REMARKABLE NUMBER OF BA- BIES WITH HIGH SCORES.

"We had over 400 entrants, and of those 40 babies scored 95 per cent. or over.

Just think of that! Of course it's remarkable. Eleven little ones scored 99 per cent, sixteen scored 98 per cent, seventeen scored 97 per cent, and so the record goes. And the one feature that has pleased us more than any other is the fact that almost every mother made the statement, 'We want our babies examined. We don't care as much about the prize, but we want to know all about our little ones.' The Evening World is doing a work in these contests," continued Mrs. Burns, "which cannot be too highly praised."

Of the other contest centres, Greenwich House, No. 24 Jones street, will begin to judge its entrants on Sept.
15. At this centre Dr. Stafford Mc-Lenn will lecture to-day at 4 P. M. on "Care of Children," and all mothers in the district are invited to be present.
Little Italy House, No. 146 Union street, Brooklyn, will also begin its judging on Sept. 15.

The Warren Goddard and Hartley Home Settlements will announce their respective judging dates within a few days.

In the mean time the Babies' Welfare Association and The Evening World are completing plans for more baby contests in upper Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond Boroughs. The contests are citywide and will not end until every section of the city has been covered.

SLEPT IN EMPTY HOUSE; GOODS LOST IN TRANSIT

Wife of Missing Furniture Mover as Well as Family Moving Becomes Alarmed.

Mrs. Myra Zeigler and her husband are wondering what has become of Samuel Willard and all of their household effects. Willard was engaged to move the Zeiglers' goods from No. 240 East One Hundred and Forty-sixth street, the Bronx, to No. 4 Clinton street, White Plains, and yesterday about 1 o'clock he loaded their entire belongings on a van to which was attached a team of horses and set out for White Plains. The van has not yet reached its destination and the police of Kingsbridge, Whitefield and Bronx are searching for Willard.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler with their four small children spent last night in the empty house at No. 4 Clinton street.
White Plains, and had a rather trying experience. The weather was chilly and their clothing was not sufficient to keep them comfortable.

Willard told Mrs. Zeigler he would reach the house in White Plains about 3 o'clock. She was there to install the furniture in their new home. She waited all afternoon and well into the night before calling the Alexander avenue police station to ask that policemen look for Willard.

At the Willard home at No. 240 Brooks avenue, Mrs. Willard is wondering what has happened to her husband. He told her yesterday that he was going to move the Zeiglers to White Plains, but said he would be home before midnight. She said her husband must have got lost or met with some accident.
